

GOULD-TERMINAL TRIP.

RESULT OF IT A SOUTHERN TRANS-CONTINENTAL LINE

To be Established, Says Mr. Inman-Norfolk May be the Terminus of the R. T. System-Governor Hill Says the Watterson Letter is a Forgery.

NEW YORK BUREAU. RICHMOND DAILY TIMES. RICHMOND, VA., Feb. 11, 1891.

President Inman, of the Richmond Terminal Company, returned this morning from his trip South with Mr. Gould. He says the trip was thoroughly business all the way as far as Savannah.

Mr. Gould was very favorably impressed, not only by the physical condition of the properties, but also by the growth of the country through which the Terminal lines run. Among other things the Terminal Company will probably arrange for closer and more direct connection with New York city.

The general idea of our trip with Mr. Gould was the establishment of a Southern Trans-Continental line. Our terminal system reaches to the Mississippi and taps Mr. Gould's Southern system in several places.

As to the probable terms of the Richmond Terminal system, I can't say very well which city will be. Norfolk, in many ways, would suit us better than any other place, and if we could get in there cheaply we probably would go there.

"IT IS A FORGERY," SAYS HILL. When Governor Hill's attention was called today to the letter from Henry Watterson published in the Baltimore Sun, he said: "I never received any such letter. This is the first I have heard of any such thing."
